

Melvin Williams Sr

MENTORSHIP · LEADERSHIP · WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT SPEAKER

Author of There's a Mentor In You · Founder & CEO, The Philly Made Us Foundation · CEO, M&N Communications LLC · Vice Chair, Whitpain Township Board of Auditors

About Melvin

Melvin Williams Sr is an entrepreneur, author, technology executive, nonprofit leader, elected official, and advocate for workforce development, mentorship, and digital equity. Based in Blue Bell, Pennsylvania, he has spent more than two decades helping individuals, businesses, nonprofits, and government organizations use technology, education, and partnerships to create economic opportunity. A respected advocate for correctional education and workforce reentry, he has delivered keynotes and built initiatives that help justice-impacted individuals gain meaningful employment and rebuild productive lives.

Keynote & Workshop Topics

The Mentor's Field Guide Series — from There's a Mentor In You:

- Relationships Before Everything
- Building Trust
- The Discipline of Listening
- Asking Better Questions
- Setting Goals Together
- Growing the Next Mentor
- The Professional's Discipline: Building Success One Habit at a Time

Also available: Workforce development & AI readiness · Correctional education & reentry · Digital equity · Community leadership

Ideal Audiences

- Schools, districts & counselors
- Nonprofits & youth-serving organizations
- Corporate leadership & teams
- Government & public-sector agencies
- Reentry & correctional education programs
- Workforce boards & conferences

Formats

- Keynotes
- Workshops & PD days
- Panels & fireside chats
- In-person or virtual

Watch

The Mentor's Field Guide Series on YouTube:
youtube.com/playlist?list=PLDvM8_HXxu4M

Why Melvin

"When mentorship, innovation, education, and opportunity come together, communities thrive and lives change."